

OBJECTIVES OF THE DEFENDANT

You are the defendant in this case, Ed, who is tried for murder.
You have confessed to the crime and dismemberment of the victim David who you worked for, and due to this confession it seems rather unlikely that you are acquitted.

Your defense lawyers, however, are very likely to plead "not guilty by reasons of insanity", however, are you really insane or are you faking it?
The choice is yours.